Point and Figure is one of the most profound technical analyst techniques that focuses on identifying momentum with a breakout strategy refined by Thomas J. Dorsey author of “Point and Figure Charting”. It is a trustworthy trading system that has been tested since 2013 and used by Nasdaq - an online global marketplace for buying and trading securities, since 2015.

In short, trading system implementation includes two main points*:

1. Buy only the top 5 stocks with equally weighted

2. Sell if no longer in the daily top 5 stock picks

For example, 1 billion means 200 million in each stock initially. After that, the switch of stocks to buy equals to the value of the sold portfolio equally divided, and it will remain all-time 5 stocks.

* OJK rules require the investor to manually self input Buy/Sell order in the STAR App (automatic is not allowed).

Thomas J. Dorsey

Tom Dorsey is the Co-Founder & Chief Executive Officer of Dorsey, Wright & Associates, a registered investment advisory firm that provides quality equity analysis and options strategies to member firms and institutions.
