Macro Update:

- Manufacturing Economy Downturn Intensifies in August: The S&P Global Indonesia Manufacturing PMI dropped to 48.9 in August 2024 from 49.3 in July, marking the second consecutive month of contraction and the steepest decline since August 2021. This downturn signals growing concerns about the health of Indonesia's manufacturing sector, with significant drops in output and new orders, both domestic and international. Export orders fell at their fastest pace since January 2023, exacerbated by shipping disruptions and logistical challenges. Employment in the sector decreased for the second month, though marginally, while backlogs of work continued to decline. Manufacturers, facing weakening demand, have reduced purchasing activity, leading to the first reduction in input stocks in 18 months. Despite easing input costs, firms raised selling prices for the 14th consecutive month, indicating persistent inflationary pressures within the supply chain. The outlook remains cautious, with ongoing challenges likely to persist, making policy support crucial to stabilize the sector. We expect Indonesia's PMI to hover around 49-50 until the end of the third quarter, aligning with our economic growth projection of 4.9% for this year.

- Indonesia's Inflation Remains Low: In August 2024, Indonesia's annual inflation rate held steady at 2.12%, nearly matching July's 2.13% and aligning with forecasts, marking the lowest level since February 2022 and signaling slower demand. Inflation moderation was driven by a significant slowdown in food prices, which saw the smallest increase in 13 months, along with easing pressures in health, accommodation, and education sectors. However, price increases in transport, housing, and clothing offset this moderation. The communication and financial services sector continued its decline, reflecting lagging consumption and a drop in consumer confidence. The Consumer Price Index (CPI) fell by 0.03% monthly, marking the fourth consecutive decline and suggesting persistent downward pressure on prices. This softer inflation, alongside a below-50 PMI, may challenge the government's 5%+ growth target for FY2024, with projections at 4.9%.

ASRI: 1H24 Capex Update

By the end of 1H24, PT Alam Sutera Realty Tbk (ASRI) had spent IDR 179 billion of its Capex budget, mainly for land procurement in Suvarna Sutera and Phase 2 Alam Sutera. As of June-24, ASRI had booked marketing sales of IDR 1.2 trillion, 42% of its full-year target of IDR 2.8 trillion. (Emiten News)

In 1H24, HRTA booked revenue of IDR 8.24 trillion (+33.46% YoY), supported by higher sales and elevated ASP. (IDX Channel)
